Call for Papers and Proposals 61ST Annual National Conference

April 3 – 6, 2003
Palmer House Hilton, Chicago

General Program Chair:
Jeffrey Segal, SUNY Stony Brook

Proposal Deadline: September 15th, 2002
Instructions for Submitting Proposals

Proposals are to be submitted on-line using the 2003 Participation Proposal Form available on our website: <http://www.mwpsa.org>.

Proposals should be submitted directly to the appropriate section heads of the 2003 Program Committee using the on-line form. Do not send the same proposal to more than two section heads, and please inform each section head if you have submitted your proposal to another section. Submitting a proposal to two section heads does not increase the chance of having the proposal accepted.

If you are offering to serve as a panel chair or discussant, please indicate your fields of expertise and provide a statement of your interests. Individuals may participate on no more than two panels and/or poster sessions. Participants may give one paper presentation and have one other panel role (as chair, discussant, co-author). Groups not affiliated with the MPSA that wish to sponsor panels should contact the MPSA Executive Director to arrange this.

Papers may be presented in either a traditional format or in a poster session. Please indicate your preference for the presentation format on the 2003 Participation Proposal Form.

The 2003 meeting will take place over four days, in a Thursday morning through Sunday noon schedule of panels. By submitting a proposal, individuals agree to be available to participate in panels or poster sessions during any of the four days of the conference. Requests for specific days or times for participation are not accepted, except for reasons related to religious observance or unusual family circumstances.

The Midwest Political Science Association reserves the right to accept or reject any proposal received from an individual or individuals desiring to participate in the annual meeting.

Instructions for Contributors to the American Journal of Political Science

The American Journal of Political Science (AJPS) seeks manuscripts that make outstanding contributions to scholarly knowledge about notable theoretical concerns, puzzles, or controversies in any subfield of political science. The AJPS will not review papers that are under consideration for publication elsewhere, whose contents have been substantially published before, or that exceed 45 standard pages, double-spaced.

Contributors may submit their papers in either of two ways. The preferred method is to send the paper electronically via e-mail. The e-mail itself should serve as the submission letter. Attached to the e-mail should be two versions of the paper each in a single PDF file. One of the PDF files should be a complete version of the paper. The cover page of this complete copy of the paper should include all the authors' full names, institutional affiliations and addresses, and the e-mail address of the contact author. The second PDF file should contain an entirely anonymous version of the paper with no author-identifying information. Author-identifying information to be excluded from the anonymous file includes the cover page information on authors, notes of appreciation to others for data or comments on the paper, statements of where the paper may have been presented at a conference, citations to the author(s) prior scholarship unless they are essential to the literature review of the paper, and any other language that could identify the author(s). Neither PDF copy of the paper should contain author-identifying information in the "document summary" tab of the PDF file. Both should be printable files. An abstract of 150 words or less should be included in both copies of the paper. Authors who state that related text, information on the data, or additional analyses are available on request should include that material in a separate, anonymous PDF file. Papers that do not meet these guidelines will not be sent out for review. Electronic copies of submitted papers should be sent to ajps@tamu.edu.

Alternatively, contributors may submit one complete paper copy of the paper and four anonymous paper copies by mail. Each of the five copies should be individually stapled. Paper-copy submissions should also include the paper in a Word, WordPerfect or LaTeX file on diskette. Paper-copy submissions should meet the criteria for the anonymous and full copies of the papers and for appendix material listed above. Paper submissions sent via regular mail service of the United States Postal Service should be sent to Professors Kim Quaile Hill and Jan E. Leighley, Editors, American Journal of Political Science, Department of Political Science, 4348 TAMU, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 77843-4348. Paper-copy submissions sent by express mail should be sent to Professors Kim Quaile Hill and Jan E. Leighley, Editors, American Journal of Political Science, Department of Political Science, 4348 TAMU, Texas A&M University, 2010 Bush Academic Building West, College Station, TX, 77843-4348.

The AJPS does not process newly submitted manuscripts between August 1 and 31 or between December 20 and January 2. Copies of submitted papers, regardless of the method of submission, are not returned. Generally, the AJPS follows the style guidelines of the American Political Science Association's Style Manual for Political Science and The Chicago Manual of Style (14th edition) for issues not addressed in the former manual. For more information on the journal and its policies see ajps.tamu.edu.
