March 13, 2024

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to the 2024 MPSA Annual Conference! We feel privileged to bring together so many excellent scholars, researchers, and students for MPSA's 81st annual conference. We hope you take advantage of the abundant opportunities at this year's conference to connect and reconnect with colleagues and friends and learn about cutting-edge scholarship in the field.

The MPSA annual conference is one of the largest in political science. This year's conference has over 3,500 pre-registered attendees from every state in the U.S. and 65 countries around the world. There will be over 1,000 sessions on the latest scholarship in political science in 95 different subfield sections representing the diversity of our discipline. We thank the many conscientious and energetic section heads for putting together a fantastic program!

We encourage you to consider attending the Awards Ceremony and Business Meeting and the President's Reception. The Awards Ceremony and Business Meeting will be on Saturday, April 6 from 6:30 p.m. – 7:30 p.m. The President's Reception, hosted by MPSA President Eleanor Neff Powell, University of Wisconsin will be on Saturday, April 6 from 7:30 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.

We also want to draw your attention to two special roundtables focused on important current events and challenges. The 2024 U.S. Presidential Election Roundtable will take place on Friday, 1:15-p.m. – 2:45 p.m. The scholars on this roundtable will discuss what will be one of the most momentous elections of our lifetime. The Criticisms of Academia Roundtable will take place on Saturday, 1:15 p.m. – 2:45 p.m. and will tackle the subject of rising public distrust of university professors and experts more broadly. In the program, under Section 1, you will find a lengthy list of other panels and roundtables we expect to be of broad interest.

Finally, a special welcome to those attending the MPSA annual conference for the first time! We encourage you to attend the First Time Attendee Networking Reception and Tour on Thursday, April 4 from 4:45 p.m. – 6:15 p.m. (please pre-register to attend). This is a great opportunity to meet other first-time attendees and learn about the conference from MPSA staff.

Thank you for coming! We hope you have a productive, intellectually stimulating, and memorable conference experience.

Yours sincerely,

Gisela Sin, Conference Program Co-Chair, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
Elizabeth Suhay, Conference Program Co-Chair, American University

You create the numerical security code for your charging slot and therefore, it is unique to you. You must remember and enter that code when you are ready to retrieve your phone from the charging station. After download, if you have trouble getting into the app, it may be because your email address was mistyped when you completed your registration. If you require assistance accessing or operating the app, please come to the staff desk on the 4th floor from Thursday, Friday, and Saturday 7:30 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.; and Sunday 7:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

Let them know you are with the MPSA Conference, the room you are in, the type of problem you are experiencing, and that you need an A/V engineer to assist you. For security reasons, the laptop computers and LCD projectors will be removed from all meeting rooms immediately upon conclusion of each day's panels.

A presenters' Green Room is in Burnham 3 on the 7th floor. A/V equipment is set up so that you can test your presentation in advance. The room will be open Thursday through Saturday, 7:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m.; and Sunday 7:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Meeting Rooms will be open by 7:30 a.m. should you need to test your presentation before the start of the 8:00 a.m. sessions.

If your birthday falls during the conference, bring your legal identification to the Red Lacquer on Friday, April 5 from 1:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m. to get your birthday cupcake. Happy birthday from the MPSA!

Safety in the City: Please exercise caution in Chicago, just as in any other big city. A few simple precautions include the following: remove your conference name badge outside the conference site; keep all valuables out of sight; don't display expensive jewelry, cameras, bags, and other items that might draw attention; avoid pickpockets (wallets should be kept in front pockets and purses worn across the shoulder); stick to well-lit, well-traveled streets; and always lock your car.

Ground Transportation: Getting around Chicago without a car is easy, use public transportation, taxis, or walk! If you need advice on getting around, ask the hotel concierge. Two international airports service Chicago both have shuttle service from the airports to our conference hotels.

- O'Hare International Airport (ORD) is located approximately 18 miles from downtown Chicago.
- Midway International Airport (MDW) is located approximately 11 miles from downtown Chicago.
- Palmer House Hotel is located at 17 E. Monroe Street, Chicago IL 60603 USA.
- Chicago Hilton Hotel is located at 720 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60605 USA.

Parking: We recommend reserving parking in advance using the Spot Hero parking reservation service that connects drivers to convenient parking. Parking availability is very limited, so it is strongly recommended that you purchase your parking for the conference in advance at www.spothero.com.

Bus/Train: Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) runs service from the Palmer House to O'Hare and Midway airports. The approximate time from downtown is 45 minutes to O'Hare and 30 minutes from Midway. For route, fare, and schedule information call (888) 968-7282 or transitchicago.com. If you plan on using the CTA to get around, Visitor Passes are your best value available for one day - $5, three days - $15, and seven days - $20. These allow unlimited rides on buses and trains. Purchase the Ventra Card at airports, visitor information centers, Union Station, and retail locations or inquire at the hotel for details about this service. You may also use the Ventra App for Chicago Transit Authority to manage your fares, buy tickets and get arrivals. Information on accessible transit is located at transitchicago.com/accessibility/

Taxicabs: Taxis from O'Hare typically cost approximately $70 to $80, and from Midway they cost approximately $68 to $70. Costs can be less if rideshare is an option. If a gas surcharge is in effect, a sign will be displayed inside the taxicab and a surcharge may apply. An additional charge of $4 is added to the total fare on each trip to or from the airports under the State of Illinois Metropolitan Pier and Exposition Authority Airport Departure. For wheelchair accessible vehicles, please call (855)-WAV-1010.

Chicago City Pass: The CityPass offers tickets to five of Chicago's best attractions and saves you 48 percent off prices if purchased individually. This is not a group tour and is designed to allow independent touring. The CityPass includes admission to the Adler Planetarium or the Art Institute of Chicago, Field Museum, Shedd Aquarium, Skydeck Chicago, and Museum of Science and Industry or 360 Chicago Express Entry. Tickets are valid for nine days from first use and are $139 for adults and $109 for children. CityPass may be purchased at any of these attractions. For questions, visit their web site at www.citypass.com or call (208) 784-4300, 9:00 a.m. – 7:00 p.m. daily.

What should I do if my discussant doesn't show up for the session?

All discussants in the conference program have confirmed their participation and are expected to perform their roles. If the discussant(s) does not arrive for the session and has not communicated their absence to any of the panelists, panelists should still present their papers and attempt to exchange feedback with one another. After the session, please inform the MPSA of the discussant's absence by emailing the Conference Director (speelmon@mpsnet.org).

PLACE HOLDER FOR POWER UP AD

Sessions Formats

Panels/Paper Sessions: This is the standard format for presenting research papers, with four or five papers on each panel, along with two discussants, one of which is also the chair. The chair introduces the panel and each of the participants, manages the time for each presentation, and facilitates discussion and Q&A from in-person and virtual audience members. Each author presents an abbreviated version of their paper (e.g., if there are five presenters, 10 minutes; if four presenters, 12 minutes; if three presenters, 15 minutes), followed by 20 minutes for comments from all discussants, and 15 minutes for audience questions and/or discussion among the panelists. The online program will list the exact time for each paper to be presented, the time for discussants to speak, and the time for questions from the audience.

Lightning Talks: The Lightning Talk format is very similar to a standard paper session, only with more papers and shorter presentations. Six to eight papers are presented in a more abbreviated manner (six-minute maximum). After each presentation, there will be two minutes of Q&A. Each participant reads the other papers on the session and provides comments on one of them. At the conclusion of the presentations, there can be more extensive Q&A about any of the papers. The chair will keep the presentations to the exact time limit, so presenters need to have their presentation rehearsed in advance. Lightning Talks are held in Sections 76-81 only.

Roundtables: Roundtables provide in-depth examinations of specific topics, projects, or books. Typically, four to eight panelists participate on a roundtable, which may include a chair who introduces the panelists and provides a substantive introduction to the topic. Rather than presenting research papers, the presenters hold a discussion, provide comments, and respond to questions about a theme or topic. Most roundtables are recorded for podcasts or learning modules. Chairs will also serve as participants on the roundtable but will be listed in the program solely as chair. Less regimented than paper sessions, the focus in roundtables is on conversation and interaction among the panelists.

Poster Sessions: Up to eight posters are included in a poster session, which will also include one or two discussants. Each poster presentation is assigned to a numbered display panel (8' x 4') in the 4th Floor Exhibit Hall. While displaying their poster, authors will be present to answer questions and distribute copies of their research findings during the scheduled poster session. Conference attendees can walk through and view the posters that are on display throughout the day. Poster sessions are held in the undergraduate sections only (Sections 82-87) and are limited to in-person participation only; there is no virtual participation option for poster sessions.

Working Groups/Conference-within-a-Conference: Working group participants agree to attend, as audience members, a small group of related sessions at the conference. A volunteer coordinator for each working group proposes a topic or theme, selects the sessions for the group to attend, promotes the working group, recruits participants, and facilitates communication among participants. A working group may also organize sessions of their own and/or hold a meeting for additional discussion and interaction.

A conference-within-a-conference may be organized around a specific theme, topic, question, or area of study. The organizers of the event recruit participants, organize them into sessions, and facilitate communication and cooperation within the group. These events provide an excellent opportunity for cohorts to gather around specific areas of study that may not be well-represented in the normal conference sections, or to develop specific projects like an edited volume.

Hybrid Conference Session Instructions

Except for poster sessions, all other sessions held in-person at the Palmer House Hilton will be available to virtual attendees. Each conference room is equipped with a laptop computer, a projector screen, a slide advancer, and a wide-angle camera with microphone pointed at the in-person panel.

- At the start of a session, the Zoom meeting room will be opened from the laptop in the conference room by MPSA staff.
- During presentations, in-person presenters will use the laptop provided in the conference room while virtual presenters will use their own computer. All presenters will enable the Zoom screen-sharing feature while they are presenting. All presentations will be displayed simultaneously on the projector screen for the in-person audience, and on Zoom for the virtual audience.
- The laptop provided in the conference room is connected to a wide-angle camera so that virtual attendees can see the full in-person panel. A built-in microphone enables virtual attendees to hear everything in the room clearly.
- When it is time for discussion of the presentations, the session chair will monitor the laptop for questions or comments from the virtual audience.

Role-Specific Instructions for In-Person Attendees

Chairs: will help to facilitate the hybrid conference format by overseeing the virtual Zoom meeting room during the session. Please consult the Zoom instructions on our website if you are not comfortable with the Zoom platform. Tech support staff will be available to assist the chair at the start of each session.

- Arrive at the conference room 10 minutes before the session begins.
- MPSA tech support staff will arrive prior to the session to open the Zoom meeting room on the laptop computer at the front of the room.
- If a staff member does not arrive by the start of your session, you can open the Zoom meeting room yourself by following these steps:
 - The virtual conference platform will be opened on the laptop computer. From the Home Page, click Zoom Hosting Assignments under the Navigation Menu on the left-hand side of the page. This will open a list of all sessions scheduled in this hotel conference room for the day, in order of occurrence.
 - Scroll to your session and click to Start or Join the Zoom Session. This will open the meeting room for virtual attendees.
- Introduce the session and all speakers. Welcome virtual audience members and inform them of the chat feature in Zoom if they would like to submit questions for the panelists.
- For a smoother process, the order of presentations should cluster in-person and virtual presentations together, rather than switching back and forth between in-person and virtual presenters.
- Ensure that all presenters use the Share Screen feature in Zoom while they are presenting. Help the speakers keep their presentations within the allotted time and signal the amount of time remaining toward the end of their presentations.
- When presentations are concluded and discussants begin to give their comments, the chair should return to the laptop at the podium and start monitoring the Zoom chat for questions or comments submitted by virtual audience members.
- When the discussants are done speaking, moderate Q&A and/or discussion among the panelists for the remainder of the session.
- Wrap up the session on time. The Zoom meeting room will close automatically for virtual attendees at the end of the session, so it is crucial that sessions do not run late.

Presenter:

- Arrive at the conference room 10 minutes before the session begins. Bring your presentation on a USB flash drive.
- Be prepared to speak for no more than the allotted time as determined by the chair of the panel.
- Be courteous: set your phone to silent and turn off any other electronic notifications.
- When it is your turn to present, use the laptop computer and projector provided in the conference room.
 - Introduce yourself and your paper title.
 - To begin sharing your presentation, insert your flash drive into the USB port on the laptop. Open the appropriate software (i.e., to show a PowerPoint presentation, open PowerPoint Reader), find your presentation file, and open it.
 - Use the Share Screen feature in Zoom so that virtual audience members can see your presentation.
 - Keep the flash drive plugged in during your presentation.
 - When your presentation is completed, click the Safely Remove Hardware icon (flash drive with a green check mark) near the bottom right corner of the screen. Wait until you are prompted to eject your flash drive, then remove it from the USB port.

Discussant:

- Arrive at the conference room 10 minutes before the session begins.
- When it is your turn to speak, after the paper presentations have concluded, be aware of your time limits. Try to devote an equal amount of time to each paper you are commenting on.

What should I do if my discussant doesn't show up for the session?

All discussants in the conference program have confirmed their participation and are expected to perform their roles. If there is an emergency that requires last-minute cancellation, discussants should make every effort to email the written comments that they would have given, so that the chair and panelists can read and discuss those comments during the session. If the discussant(s) does not arrive for the session and has not communicated their absence to any of the panelists, panelists should still present their papers and attempt to exchange feedback with one another. After the session, please inform the MPSA of the discussant's absence by emailing the Conference Director (speelmon@mpsnet.org).

COVID-19 Information

The MPSA will follow state and local policies regarding masks and vaccination. The City of Chicago has lifted its indoor mask mandate and its proof of vaccination requirement, and has no capacity restrictions; however, we highly encourage you to take appropriate health and safety measures. If there are any changes to state and local guidelines, we will communicate them as they become available. Please visit the Center for Disease Control for additional COVID-19 recommendations and guidance.

MPSA Anti-Harassment Policy

The Midwest Political Science Association (MPSA) is committed to upholding the highest standards for respectful, professional norms and behavior and to fostering an inclusive climate. Consequently, harassment and unethical behavior at MPSA events or programs is considered to be a serious form of misconduct.

The following Anti-Harassment Policy, modeled closely on the American Political Science Association's Anti-Harassment Policy, outlines expectations for all who attend and participate in MPSA events, programs, and meetings.

1. Purpose

MPSA is committed to fostering a safe, inclusive, respectful, and welcoming environment for all members and participants, regardless of race, gender, sexual orientation, ability, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, age, religion, or belief. "Participant" in this policy refers to anyone present at MPSA meetings or participating in any other sponsored programs or events, including staff, contractors, vendors, exhibitors, venue staff, MPSA members and all other participants.

2. Expected Behavior

All participants at MPSA meetings, events or programs are expected to abide by this Anti-Harassment Policy in all meeting venues, including ancillary events and official and unofficial social gatherings. Compliance with this policy includes the following:

- Abiding by the norms of professional respect that are necessary to promote the conditions for free academic interchange.
- Agreement to alert relevant MPSA staff or security personnel if a situation arises where someone might be in imminent danger

3. Unacceptable Behavior

Behaviors that violate the Anti-Harassment Policy include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Threats or actions that cause or threaten personal harm
- Threats or actions that cause or threaten professional harm, punishment or retaliation
- Intimidating, harassing, abusive, derogatory or demeaning speech or actions
- Prejudicial actions or comments that coerce others, foment broad hostility or otherwise undermine professional equity or the principles of free academic exchange
- Unwelcome solicitation of emotional or physical intimacy
- Deliberate intimidation, stalking or following
- Harassing photography or recording
- Sustained, unprofessional disruption of talks or other events
- Other intentionally disruptive behavior

The above list is not exhaustive and MPSA, in its sole discretion, may hold individuals accountable for other behaviors in violation of this Policy.

4. Reporting Procedure for the Anti-Harassment Policy

If harassment is observed or reported to any MPSA staff member, Council member, conference attendee, or venue employee, and there is a question of immediate physical danger, steps should be taken to ensure immediate safety of all attendees and staff, regardless of any complaint procedure that may follow.

Participants who believe they have experienced or witnessed harassment or have been the target of unprofessional conduct, in violation of MPSA Anti-Harassment Policy, have two options. The first is to consult with the Ombuds of the MPSA (mpsombuds2024@gmail.com), who is available for confidential consultation about a wide range of concerns, including but not limited to sexual harassment. The second is to submit a complaint using an online form or emailing cope@mpsnet.org. This can be done confidentially. An individual needing guidance on making a complaint can contact the MPSA Executive Director, Deputy Executive Director/Communications Director, Membership Director, or Conference Director. All complaints made are referred to the Committee on Professional Ethics (COPE).

If you are in immediate danger, please contact the appropriate local emergency personnel for assistance:

MPSA Meeting Ombuds

As an informal resource, the Ombuds plays no role in MPSA's formal complaint procedure but can offer independent, confidential, and impartial guidance for a range of concerns, including but not limited to perceived discrimination or harassment. The Ombuds will listen to your concerns without judgment and explain the options or approaches you have available to address them. Options can range from informally addressing the issues, reporting the incident to the MPSA or, given the nature of the complaint, pursuing a complaint with an outside entity such as state or local government, human rights or law enforcement agencies, the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, or the U.S. Office for Civil Rights. The Ombuds cannot provide legal advice but can offer support and guidance even if no further action is taken.

Consultation with the Ombuds is confidential. The details of any a conversation between an MPSA event participant and the MPSA Ombuds is kept confidential to the extent allowable by law, and will not be reported to any administrator, officer, or committee of the MPSA. The only exceptions to confidentiality are when the Ombuds believes there is an imminent risk of serious harm. In those circumstances, the Ombuds will disclose information to an appropriate entity to protect the individuals from harm. The Ombuds is entirely independent of any other MPSA structure, resource, or complaint process. The Ombuds will not keep any written records of complaints or consultations. The Ombuds can be reached at mpsaoombuds2024@gmail.com or by asking for assistance from conference personnel. If the Ombuds is involved in or has a relationship with any party to the dispute, the Ombuds will be recused after contacting another Ombuds to address the issue.

The MPSA Ombuds adheres to the International Ombudsman Associations Code of Ethics and Standards of Practice which are as follows.

Preamble

The International Ombudsman Association (IOA) is dedicated to excellence in the practice of Ombuds work. The IOA Code of Ethics provides a common set of professional ethical principles to which members adhere in their organizational Ombuds practice.

Based on the traditions and values of Ombuds practice, the Code of Ethics reflects a commitment to promote ethical conduct in the performance of the Ombuds role and to maintain the integrity of the Ombuds profession.

The Ombuds shall be truthful and act with integrity, shall foster respect for all members of the organizations they serve, and shall promote procedural fairness in the content and administration of those organizations' practices, processes, and policies.

Ethical Principles

Independence – The Ombuds is independent in structure, function, and appearance to the highest degree possible within the organization.

Neutrality and Impartiality – The Ombuds, as a designated neutral resource, remains unaligned and impartial. The Ombuds does not engage in any situation which could create a conflict of interest.

Confidentiality – The Ombuds holds all communications with those seeking assistance in strict confidence and does not disclose confidential communications unless given permission to do so. The only exception to this privilege of confidentiality is where there appears to be imminent risk of serious harm.

Informality – The Ombuds, as an informal resource, does not participate in any formal adjudicative or administrative procedure related to concerns brought to his/her attention.

Reporting Harassment

The Midwest Political Science Association (MPSA) is committed to upholding the highest standards for respectful, professional norms and behavior and to fostering an inclusive climate. Consequently, harassment and unprofessional behavior at MPSA events is a serious form of misconduct.

All participants at MPSA meetings or events are expected to abide by the MPSA Anti-Harassment and Professional Conduct Policy in all meeting venues, including ancillary events and official and unofficial social gatherings by:

- Abiding by the norms of professional respect that are necessary to promote the conditions for free academic interchange, and
- Alerting relevant MPSA staff or security personnel if a situation arises where someone might be in imminent danger.

If harassment is observed or reported and there is a question of immediate physical danger, steps should be taken to ensure immediate safety of all attendees and staff, regardless of any complaint procedure that may follow.

Participants who believe they have experienced or witnessed harassment in violation of MPSA Anti-Harassment and Professional Conduct Policy or the MPSA Code of Conduct at Events, have two options:

1. Consult with the MPSA Meeting Ombuds

The MPSA Meeting Ombuds can offer confidential guidance about what constitutes discrimination or harassment, can explain the options for reporting harassment to the MPSA, and can provide information regarding whether other avenues for pursuing such a complaint are available based on the nature of the complaint. The ombuds cannot provide legal advice but can offer support and guidance even if no further action is taken. The MPSA Meeting Ombuds can be reached via email at mpsambuds2024@gmail.com or during office hours at the conference.

2. Make a Report to the MPSA

Reports related to potential violations of the MPSA Anti-Harassment and Professional Conduct Policy, may be submitted confidentially and anonymously through our new third-party online reporting platform NAVEX Global's EthicsPoint. Please visit mps.ethicspoint.com or call (844) 715-9358 for additional information about the complaint process and to make a report.

As a general principle, the MPSA will make every effort to protect complainants from retaliation. If you would like to discuss your concerns regarding these or other policies during the conference, please contact conference staff.

Accessibility

MPSA is committed to making our annual conference accessible to the widest range of people possible, where barriers of any type do not exclude people from attending or participating. You may call MPSA at (812) 558-0588, Ext. 1 to speak with the conference team or email us at mpsainfo@mpsanet.org. Please make these arrangements four weeks prior to the conference. Be sure to outline the specific type of assistance required. Attendees who do not pre-arrange for services or equipment can inquire at the MPSA Conference Registration Counters onsite. Every reasonable effort will be made to assist attendees onsite however, MPSA may not be able to provide all services or equipment due to availability or the time required to obtain them.

All presentations and sessions should be designed and conducted with the full participation of all in mind. Please pay special attention to members of the audience with disabilities. Be aware that registrants with disabilities are to be given priority seating. Every session room will be set to accommodate wheelchair users' access.

Hearing Impairments: Participants can request a sign language interpreter or CART equipment for the MPSA Conference. Please contact us no later than four weeks prior to the first day of the conference. The MPSA will cover the expense for your presentation session(s). Additionally, MPSA will also have a few personal audio amplifiers available at the Conference Onsite Registration Counters on a first come, first serve basis, and must be returned to the Conference Registration Counters at the end of each day.

Visual Impairments: Should you require assistance to navigate the MPSA, you may register your aide as a complimentary guest. Please contact a conference team member to register your personal aide. If you need MPSA to arrange for an aide to help you navigate the meeting, please make your requests no later than four weeks prior to the first day of the conference. MPSA has magnifying sheets available at the Conference Information Desk for those that require larger print.

Mobility Constraints: Due to the size of the MPSA Conference, sessions are spread out and distances between sessions can be considerable. If you are a regular wheelchair user, you should bring your chair with you. If you wish to rent a wheelchair or scooter the MPSA staff will be happy to assist you in locating a local dealer.

Accessible Transportation: When applicable, shuttle service will be available between the conference headquarters and the Chicago Hilton Hotel. Registrants with mobility issues who are unable to utilize the MPSA shuttle buses between the two conference hotels may utilize cab service. MPSA will reimburse for taxi fares between the two properties.

Accessible Housing: All ADA-designated hotel rooms in the official MPSA hotel block will be specifically set aside for individuals requesting them. Beginning with the 2022 Conference, MPSA started conducting a detailed accessibility survey of all official MPSA room block hotels. These surveys, completed by the hotels, provide information about accessible entrances, parking and drop-off areas, and information regarding accessible public areas, guest rooms, meeting rooms, restaurants, hotel amenities, and assistive devices. Use this information to select the hotel that best meets your needs. Make hotel reservations as early as possible, as there are a limited number of accessible rooms available at each property.

Evacuation: In the event of an evacuation, guests are asked to utilize staircase number 4 to evacuate the building. There will be Security Staff present to assist the process.

Food Allergies: All MPSA hosted events will have food labeled by the facility, so that attendees may avoid allergens.

All Gender Restrooms: A gender-neutral restroom is located on the on the 6th floor near the Grant Park Parlor and on the 4th floor off the Red Lacquer. The restroom facilities are available for use by all persons, regardless of their gender identity. The facilities will be marked on the door. Please help make these facilities and this meeting an inclusive space by respecting the rights of all genders.

Nursing Mothers Room: MPSA has designated a room for attendees with lactation needs. Please see the Conference Registration Counters for access.

Chemical Sensitivity: The MPSA is a smoke-free conference. Smoking is not permitted in any meeting or session rooms, business, or networking events. This policy also applies to those using e-cigarettes. In addition, MPSA encourages its meeting attendees to refrain from using perfume, cologne, aftershave and other fragranced personal care products for the health and safety of our attendees.

Chronic Pain: MPSA attendees with disabilities (including chronic pain) often have difficulty in crowded locations with unintended pushing or taps that may cause pain or loss of balance. Please be aware of this and be considerate of all attendees while at the conference.

Information for Presenters:

Reaching Participants with Vision Impairments:

- Briefly describe your PowerPoint slides.
- Avoid pointing to something on the slide and using words like “this, that, those, or these”, unless you indicate what “this” means.

Reaching Participants with Hearing Impairments:

- Speak audibly and clearly at a moderate pace. This practice promotes understanding in the audience and allows sign language interpreters time to translate what you are saying.
- Look at your audience rather than your screen or your paper. Keep your hands away from your mouth so that people who speech read can understand you.
- Ensure that only one person speaks at a time by asking members of the group to wait until they are acknowledged before commenting or asking questions.
- Before you begin speaking, make sure that the sign language interpreters have a copy of your presentation.
- Do not walk in front of interpreters while they are signing.
- When you address a person using an interpreter, speak directly to the person, not the interpreter.

Should a Problem Arise While You are at the MPSA Conference: If you have any problem or negative experience related to accessibility, including issues with housing, meeting session, or any other accessibility related issue, please report the issue to the MPSA staff at registration and/or email the MPSA Conference Director at spelmon@mpsanet.org. You may reach the MPSA staff during the conference at (312) 917-1710.

An MPSA team member will record the concern and will be your advocate in working to resolve the issues whenever possible. By informing us of any concerns that arise, we can work towards making the MPSA Conference more accessible to all.

Volunteer Opportunities at MPSA

MPSA has several volunteer opportunities available throughout the calendar year. These opportunities include serving as a committee member on a paper, subfield, flagship, and career stage awards committees. There are also opportunities to serve on administrative committees, along with mentoring roles, session chairs, discussants, and section chairs.

Committee Volunteer Opportunities

Best Paper Awards Committees

The MPSA Best Paper Awards Committee determines awards for best paper, subfield awards, and career stage awards. The MPSA Awards committee members are responsible for accepting nominations and making selections for award recipients.

Administrative & Planning Committees

The MPSA Administrative Committees are responsible for a variety of administrative tasks leading up to the Annual Conference. Some of these committees include the student travel awards committee, the committee on professional ethics, the mentoring committees, and the public engagement.

Conference Volunteer Opportunities

Section Head, Chair, and Discussant Volunteers

Section Chairs review proposal submissions and organize them into sessions for the Annual Conference. The MPSA will provide each Section Chair with an allocation of sessions, and the Section Chairs need to create approximately that number of sessions, using the MPSA software (All Academic), and make sure that there are an appropriate number of papers on each session, as well as discussants or chairs. Usually, the entire section can be organized in a day or two in the autumn. The Section Chairs will need to find replacement discussants in the winter and spring.

In addition, professional-level participants may volunteer to serve as chairs and discussants. Please consider volunteering your expertise to demonstrate your support of your colleagues in the discipline.

Professional Development Roundtable Participant Volunteers

Faculty are encouraged to offer to serve on roundtables in areas of professional development topics that focus on the career stages of individuals (student, job placement, early career, and mid-career) as well as topics that would be of interest to most including publishing, research, and teaching.

Professional Development Roundtables are a staple of the MPSA Annual Conference. We hope you will participate in this annual tradition of valuable collaboration, professional development, and networking.

Mentoring & Social Volunteer Opportunities

Annual Conference Mentoring Reception Volunteer

Each mentor will connect with groups of no more than four attendees to discuss current research and professional aspirations. Contact information and questions will be shared between the mentor and mentees in your small groups. Please confirm your conference schedule prior to RSVPing for this mentoring reception.

The mentoring reception is held on Friday at the MPSA Conference in April. We assign each mentor to a specific table where (s)he can talk with a small group of graduate students.

Academic Year-Long Mentoring Program Volunteer

MPSA invites faculty members to serve as volunteer during the Academic Year. Training will be made available prior to the program's launch to help you with a successful start to your mentoring relationship. If selected for this program, mentees will work remotely (phone calls or via Zoom/Skype/Google Hangouts, etc.) with faculty in a structured format over the academic year. Total commitment is approximately 10 total hours. MPSA will match mentors and mentees. Learn more about MPSA mentoring programs here. Please note that this program is 100% outside of the annual conference programming and conference participation is not required to participate in the Academic Year Mentoring Program.

Working Group/Conference-Within-A-Conference Volunteer

A volunteer coordinator for each working group proposes a theme, selects and/or organizes sessions for the group to attend, promotes the working group, and facilitates communication among participants. A working group consists of up to 15 participants. A working group may meet before and after a session(s) or during lunch for additional discussion and interaction. MPSA staff takes care of scheduling logistics and maintaining rosters. This is an excellent opportunity for individuals and cohorts to host focused discussion around a specific theme or specialization without the hassle of logistics! Learn more here or contact MPSA Professional Development Manager Lewis Hoss, Ph.D. at hoss@mpsnet.org with any questions.

Frequently Asked Questions about Poster Sessions

What if I need help onsite locating my poster board or have other questions about my presentation?

If you have any questions or need additional assistance in locating your poster board, please visit the Poster Information Booth in the exhibit hall.

What date/time is my poster session?

You can find the schedule for your poster session in the online conference program. The online program is searchable by participant name, session time, and session format.

If I am presenting a poster, do I also have to upload my research paper to the MPSA online conference program?

Yes. Uploading your research to the online conference program allows fellow attendees and your discussant to review your research in advance of your presentation. You might also consider sending it to your discussant via email as a courtesy. To view email addresses, click on a participant in the online program (you must be logged in to view email addresses).

If I don't want to travel with my poster, is there anywhere nearby to have one printed?

Printing will not be provided onsite, so presenters should bring their pre-printed posters to the conference with them or be prepared to arrange for printing in Chicago. The FedEx Office Print & Ship Center and the UPS Store located adjacent to the Palmer House both provide poster printing services. You can learn more and see their rates on their respective websites.

What materials should I bring to the conference for my poster presentation?

Please bring a copy of all presentation materials you plan to attach to the display board, as well as a copy of your research paper, and copies of any handouts you would like to share with your audience.

Where should I set up my poster?

Poster presentations will take place in the Exhibition Hall on the 4th floor of the Palmer House Hilton during regular exhibit hours. Poster presentation display panels will be placed in numerical order around the perimeter of the room. You will be able to view your assigned display panel number in the online conference program later in March, and in the printed program at the conference.

How early can I set up my poster?

Be sure to arrive in plenty of time to pick up your registration materials, as certain times in the registration hall may be busier than others. You must have your name badge to enter the Exhibition Hall where the poster presentations take place. You may start setting up as soon as the previous presenter is finished (usually 15 minutes before your scheduled time).

When should I set up and take down my poster?

All poster materials should be prepared for quick assembly 15 minutes prior to the allotted presentation time. Poster materials should be removed promptly at the end of the presentation to enable the next presenter to set up.

Where can I store my poster when I'm not presenting?

A coat check is available on the 4th floor of the Palmer House Hilton. They may be able to store your poster for a small fee. Otherwise, please plan to carry your presentation with you, as MPSA is not able to store poster materials.

Working Groups and Mini-Conferences

Association for Politics and the Life Sciences Annual Conference

The 2024 Annual Meeting of the Association for Politics and the Life Sciences (APLS) will be held on Friday afternoon at the MPSA conference. APLS is dedicated to the advancement of research pertaining to the following broad categories: new directions in politics and the life sciences, biopolitics, life science policies (e.g., health policy, genetically modified foods, stem cell research), neurobiology and politics, bioethics, bioterrorism, environmental policy and communication (e.g., media coverage and public opinion about climate change), genetics and politics, biotechnology, and other biopolitical topics. This year's conference features new research in politics and the life sciences, along with a keynote and reception on Friday afternoon.

Chinese Development and Governance

This mini-conference follows eight successful China Development and Government workshops organized by several Asia Fellows in the Ash Center at the Harvard Kennedy School. The event gathers doctoral candidates, postdoctoral fellows, and junior scholars in the field of Chinese politics based in North America and Asia. During a full day of panels held on Saturday, participants will present new research on Chinese elites, international issues pertaining to China, and new issues in Chinese governance including environmental governance, AI applications, digital technology and institutional pressures. The mini-conference will also feature a book talk by En Li, recent author of Betting on the Civil Service Examinations: The Lottery in Late Qing China (Harvard University Press, 2023); and a publishing lecture entitled "Navigating the Publication Process: From Dissertation to Manuscript."

CMPS Scholars Research Network Mini-Conference

The CMPS Scholars Research Network will host a mini-conference at MPSA 2024 featuring papers that delve into the results of the Collaborative Multiracial Post-Election Survey (CMPS) 2020. Original researchers and collaborators on the CMPS 2020, and their co-authors, will present their findings from this comprehensive survey. Panels will be held on Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Cultural Theory Working Group

The Cultural Theory Working Group is an international gathering of scholars who use the political cultural theory developed by Mary Douglas, Aaron Wildavsky, and others to advance subfield understandings and explanations in political science. The group will attend several panels featuring papers that engage with cultural theory and will hold a meeting on Saturday.

Organized Crime and Politics Mini-Conference

This mini-conference brings together scholars whose research intersects with Organized Crime and Politics, broadly defined. Selected papers are united around a broad definition of organized crime and its effects on political dynamics and actors. Specifically, the topics that will be addressed are organized crime groups' effect on local governance and electoral behavior; policing, crackdown, and violent groups; the social and economic consequences of crackdowns; and organized crime's impact on citizens' lives. Panelists examine these topics using different methodological approaches, including quantitative methods, formal models, experiments, case studies, ethnographies, and mixed methods. Further, this mini-conference also offers evidence from diverse contexts, including Italy and India, as well as countries in Latin America (i.e., Mexico, Colombia, Bolivia, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Uruguay, and Peru) and Africa (i.e., Nigeria and Kenya). Panels will be held throughout the day on Thursday.

Politics and Political Economy of Eurasia Mini-Conference

This is the fifth annual meeting of the Eurasian Political Economy Workshop at MPSA. The event brings together scholars with a focus on political economy (broadly understood) in the former Soviet Union and neighboring states. American Journal of Political Science

Instructions for Submitting Authors

Guidelines for Manuscripts - Updated February 24, 2022

The American Journal of Political Science (AJPS) seeks manuscripts that make outstanding contributions to scholarly knowledge about notable theoretical concerns, empirical issues, or methodological strategies in any subfield of political science. Manuscripts submitted for review should address an important research problem or question, display a high level of creativity or innovation in research, contribute in a novel way to a body of knowledge, and also (as appropriate) demonstrate state-of-the-art use of appropriate methodology.

The American Journal of Political Science does not review manuscripts that:

- Do not contain original arguments or analyses;
- Are not analytically rigorous, of high quality, and self-contained;
- Do not have appropriate Institutional Review Board approval for studies involving human subjects;
- Are unsolicited responses to recently published articles;
- Are book reviews or essays on current events;
- Are simultaneously under review elsewhere;
- Contain material that has already been published elsewhere (without appropriate citation or acknowledgment);
- Fail to comply with the substantive, stylistic, formatting, and anonymity requirements described above; or
- Have been reviewed previously at the AJPS.

Articles are selected for publication in the AJPS based on a double-blind review process. Authors and co-authors of submissions to the AJPS are expected to review manuscripts for the Journal. The AJPS Co-Editors reserve the right to refuse submissions from authors who repeatedly fail to provide reviews for the Journal when invited to do so.

The Editors of the American Journal of Political Science seek to provide constructive and informative manuscript reviews that provide authors with useful information regardless of the ultimate editorial decision. We are also committed to providing authors with efficient and timely turnaround when processing submitted manuscripts. But the speed of the process is directly affected by the timeliness of referee responses. Accordingly, it may take several months to complete the review of a manuscript. Note also that all reviews are advisory to the AJPS Co-Editors, who are responsible for publication decisions. Editorial decisions should be considered final.

Manuscript Preparation (Revised June 27, 2023): A manuscript submitted for review to the American Journal of Political Science should be prepared as detailed below. Papers that do not meet these formatting and submission guidelines will not be sent out for review.

- All submissions of original work submitted to the AJPS are expected to adhere to the ethics in research and publications guidelines provided in the American Political Science Association's A Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science (revised 2012).
- The manuscript should present its content as efficiently as possible, with no unnecessary material included in the text, tables, or figures. Manuscripts that exceed 10,000 words will not be reviewed.
- The manuscript must include a title page featuring an abstract of no more than 150 words, followed by a word count for the manuscript. The abstract should provide a concise summary of the research stream to which the manuscript contributes, the specific research topic it addresses, the research strategy employed for the analysis, the results obtained from the analysis, and the implications of the findings.
- The American Journal of Political Science maintains a strict policy requiring authors of accepted articles to provide all data and code necessary to reproduce their article results. If a manuscript is tentatively accepted for publication, the replication materials will be verified to make sure that they do, in fact, reproduce all results that appear in the article and immediate supporting materials before final acceptance and publication. Authors should review the AJPS Files before submitting a manuscript for review. If there are limitations or restrictions on data access, or if an exception to the general replication policy will be requested for any reason, then the author should contact the editorial office to explain the situation before submitting the manuscript. Exceptions to the AJPS replication policy will be granted at the discretion of the Editors.
- Submissions to the AJPS should be no longer than 10,000 words. The word count includes the main body of text, notes, parenthetical references, appendices intended for print, and the headers and notes of tables and figures. It does not include the title page, abstract, reference section, online supporting information section, or mathematical notations. A manuscript that exceeds the 10,000-word limit will be returned without review.

- All submissions should follow the style guidelines from the American Political Science Association's Style Manual for Political Science (revised in 2018) or The Chicago Manual of Style (16th edition). The guidelines include, but are not limited to, matters of text style, citations, appendices, notes, references, and figures/tables.
- All text, footnotes, and bibliographic references must be doubled-spaced and printed in a standard 12-point type font (material in figures and tables may be single-spaced). Page margins should be a minimum of one inch all around.
- An alphabetical listing of references is required. All bibliographic references should provide authors' first and last names, not the last name and first initial- e.g., Smith, John, not Smith, J.

Citations and Author Anonymity

- The manuscript must exclude any author-identifying information, such as title page information listing authors' names and affiliations, expressions of appreciation to others for advice or data, statements of where the manuscript may have been presented at a conference, acknowledgments of support for the research, or citations to the authors' unpublished work that is not available online. Citations to one's own published work should be made in the third person (e.g., "In earlier work, Brooks et al. (2000) examined ..."), not in the first person (e.g., "In earlier work, we examined ... (Brooks et al. 2000)"). In most cases, information that is removed from the manuscript to maintain anonymity should not be indicated with placeholders, such as "AUTHOR CITATION" or "REDACTED."
- Manuscripts should not cite unpublished work as support for the current analysis unless it is available online. Exceptions include presentations at major professional conferences or entries in working paper series that are widely available to scholars. Bibliographic information for any unpublished material must include a URL that enables referees and other interested readers to access the work directly.
- If the submission is part of a larger research agenda (e.g., other related papers under review or book manuscripts in development) these details should be identified in the "Author Comments" text box during the manuscript submission process.
- Please contact the editorial office at ajps@ajps.org for any questions regarding appropriate citation practices.

Tables and Figures

- We encourage the use of figures to demonstrate an argument or illustrate a finding. Authors should ensure that the graphical content of any figure is legible and high quality.
- For purposes of review, authors are encouraged to insert figures and tables into the body of the text, thereby enabling referees to refer to the material easily while reading the manuscript. Tables and figures should be numbered consecutively.
- Authors who report that results are "statistically significant" should use a threshold no greater than 0.05.

Supporting Information

- We encourage the use of supplemental information for manuscripts when it is directly relevant to the research design, statistical methods, or empirical findings. The material provided in the SI file is not considered part of the word count for the manuscript submission. The SI file will be sent to referees along with the manuscript. If the manuscript is accepted for publication, then the SI file will be posted on the publisher's website with the electronic copy of the article and also on the AJPS website.
- Information in the SI file should be aimed at a sophisticated reader with specialized field expertise. For example, formal theories may include proofs; computational models may include computer code; experiments may include details of the protocol; empirical work may include data coding, alternative econometric specifications, robustness checks, and additional tables and figures that elaborate the manuscript's primary point.
- If you have pre-registered a pre-analysis plan and you believe that viewing it would help reviewers assess your manuscript, you may include an anonymized version of it in the online supporting information section. However, please note that it will count toward the 20-page limit placed on online supporting information sections.
- SI files associated with original submissions may not exceed 20 pages. Exceptions to the 20-page limit on original manuscripts may be given at the discretion of the co-editors based on the relevance of the material to the paper's methodology and/or to the integrity of the peer review process. A request for an exception to the general policy must be made during original manuscript submission in the "Comments to the Editorial Office" text box with a brief explanation as to why the exception is necessary.
- SI files associated with papers invited to revise-and-resubmit may, at the discretion of the co-editors, exceed 20 pages if required to respond to specific reviewer comments, and where such material is referred to in the response memo and text.
- All SI files should have a title page and a table of contents identifying the content by page number; this content and the specific page numbers must be referred to at the appropriate place in the main text of the manuscript.

Manuscript Submission (Revised February 24, 2022): A manuscript intended for review by AJPS must be submitted through the online editorial system, Editorial Manager, as follows:

- If a manuscript has multiple authors, then one author must be designated as the corresponding author. That person will act for the full team of authors as the sole contact for communications with the AJPS Editorial Offices throughout the review process.
- Before starting the submission process, the corresponding author for the manuscript should have available the names and e-mail addresses of all authors; for each author of the submitted paper, the names of those on their dissertation committee and a list of co-authors from the previous five years; the abstract text; and a list of opposed reviewers for the manuscript. We expect the corresponding author to confirm whether any of the authors on the submitted paper have a conflict of interest with the editorial team, and the nature of that conflict of interest.
- During the submission process, the corresponding author also needs to identify a research subfield for the manuscript and designate several keywords that identify the topics for which the manuscript is relevant. An author invited to submit a revised manuscript needs to provide the original manuscript number (i.e., that used during the initial review by the AJPS).
- During the submission process, authors whose work involves human subjects must provide information regarding how the research was conducted. We define “human subjects” research using the current federal definition: i.e., living individuals from whom data were obtained by intervention or interaction with the individual or from whom identifiable private information was obtained. If any author on a manuscript has access to an institutional IRB, then the research on which the submission is based must have received IRB approval or exemption, as appropriate. The corresponding author will submit documentation of IRB approval or exemption along with the manuscript. If no author on a submission has access to an institutional IRB, the manuscript must include an appendix that addresses a series of questions about the conduct of the research. These questions can be found here. If the research relies on publicly available data that received IRB approval for the original data collection, IRB approval or exemption is not required for submission to the AJPS (though this policy may differ from authors’ home universities/colleges).
- An original or revised manuscript must include one anonymous (PDF, Word, or LaTeX) file. For original submissions, the corresponding author must submit a fully anonymous version of the manuscript (see above). The file containing the manuscript should be marked “anonymous” in the document summary tab and the file must be printable. For (invited) revised submissions, the corresponding author must also upload the response memorandum as an anonymous PDF attached to the top of the anonymous manuscript.
- A corresponding author may, but is not required to, include comments to the Editor, acknowledgments, and details on where the paper has been presented in the “Author Comments” field in Editorial Manager. This is the only place that these details should be included while the manuscript is under review; if accepted, they can be added into the final version of the paper submitted for publication.
- If Supporting Information (SI) of no more than 20 pages is included as part of a manuscript submission, it must be uploaded as an “Appendix” in the Editorial Manager system and complete the “Description” text box associated with the SI file with “Online Appendix.” This designation allows the file to be available to reviewers, but excluded from the print edition of the AJPS if the manuscript is accepted for publication. Please note that any file uploaded to Editorial Manager under the “other” designation will not be accessible to referees.
- Authors may also designate up to three people they oppose as reviewers. In such cases, the author must specify why the individual should be disqualified from serving as a referee. The selection of individuals opposed by the authors as reviewers is at the co-editors’ discretion.
- If a manuscript is accepted for publication, additional formatting and replication requirements must be met prior to publication. See “Guidelines for Accepted Articles”

American Journal of Political Science

Verification Policy

The corresponding author of a manuscript that is accepted for publication in the American Journal of Political Science must provide materials that are sufficient to enable interested researchers to verify all of the analytic results that are reported in the text and supporting materials. The document titled “American Journal of Political Science Guidelines for Preparing Verification Files”^{*} provides useful information about what information is needed and how it should be organized. All verification files must be stored in a Dataset within the AJPS Dataverse, on the Harvard Dataverse Network. Note that authors also can make their verification files available elsewhere (e.g., their personal website, other data repositories, etc.) as long as all of the necessary files are included in the Dataset on the AJPS Dataverse.

The corresponding author should prepare and upload verification materials to the AJPS Dataverse before submitting the final draft of the accepted manuscript. The “American Journal of Political Science Quick Reference for Uploading Replication Files”^{*} provides information about creating a Dataset on the AJPS Dataverse and depositing materials into it. The “American Journal of Political Science Quantitative Data Verification Checklist” and “American Journal of Political Science Qualitative Data Verification Checklist” are designed to help authors ensure that they have provided all necessary files.

When the final draft of the manuscript is submitted, the materials will be verified to confirm that they do, in fact, reproduce the analytic results reported in the article. Publication in the American Journal of Political Science is contingent upon provision of complete verification materials and successful verification of their content.

AJPS articles that do not contain empirical data analyses are not subject to this verification policy. In some limited circumstances, an author may request an exemption from the verification policy. This exemption would allow the author to withhold or limit public access to some or all of the data used in an analysis. All other verification materials (e.g., software commands, etc.) still must be provided. The primary reasons for such exemptions are restricted access to datasets and human subjects’ protection. If an exemption is granted, then the author must include a note at the beginning of the published article explicating acknowledging the limitations on data availability and describing the restrictions that prevent public access to the exempted data. Any exemptions from the verification policy must be approved explicitly by the AJPS Editor, who retains final authority to decide whether the requested exemption will be granted.

MPSA Policy on Editorial Conflicts of Interest for the American Journal of Political Science (AJPS)

The American Journal of Political Science is the flagship journal of the Midwest Political Science Association, with a large readership, articles that are frequently cited and a reputation as a global leader in social science research. It is consistently one of the most highly ranked journals in the discipline. Because of this status, the AJPS editorial office exercises significant power with direct consequences for the intellectual advancement and the professional careers of those who seek to publish in the journal. AJPS editors are held to the highest professional and ethical standards of the academy, are expected to act in the best interests of the MPSA and are required to avoid conflicts of interest. The purpose of this policy is to clarify what constitutes a conflict of interest for editors and authors, and how to prevent such conflicts from occurring in the editorial process. While conflicts of interest on the part of AJPS reviewers are also relevant to the integrity of the editorial process, this policy addresses only conflicts of interest between editors and author and requires that editor(s) will develop and implement an appropriate reviewer conflict of interest policy consistent with the principles and goals expressed below.

1. Conflict of Interest. A conflict of interest (COI) is a transaction or relationship which presents or may present an incompatibility between an editor's obligations to the MPSA and discipline, and the editor's personal, professional, third-party, or other interests. COI's in the editorial process could result in an unfair situation in which the editor tries to bestow a benefit or impose a cost on an author, or where authors seek such benefits, for reasons that are not merit-based. These transactions/relationships potentially include, but are not limited to: financial (investments, loans, royalties, fee payments) or non-financial but cash-in-kind (meals, transportation, entertainment); professional relationships (students, colleagues, collaborators); and personal relationships, including but not limited to family members or close friends and other types of relationships that might be deemed by a reasonable person to be unethical.
2. Disclosure of Claims. An actual or potential conflict of interest may also result from formal professional or ethical claims made against the editor independent of editorial operations. These conflicts may compromise the editor's ability to perform his/her editorial responsibilities or may have consequences for the reputation and success of the journal. Editors are expected to inform the executive committee (president, president-elect, and past president) of any known claims. Should such claims be brought to the attention of the executive committee, the committee will review the status of the claims and determine the best response, if any.
3. Disclosure of Known Conflicts. Upon appointment, and updated as needed, the editors and all editorial board members shall receive a copy of this policy and agree (by signing) to comply with it. In addition, authors and editors are required to provide full disclosure of all actual and potential conflicts to the Publishing Ethics Committee when a manuscript is submitted for review, and before any editorial actions are taken.
4. Nature of Conflicts Relevant to this Policy. Not all conflicts of interest are prohibited or harmful to the MPSA. The association recognizes that our association, disciplines, and scholarly communities are relatively small, with potentially complex (collegial or competitive) relationships. However, the following professional or personal relationships between authors and editors are conflicts of interest that are prohibited:
 - a. current or former dissertation committee chair or committee member (ever)
 - b. current colleagues at the same institution
 - c. current professional research, teaching, or funding collaborators
 - d. current or former spouses or partners
5. Review of Conflicts. Any issues relevant to the aforementioned conflicts should be directed to the Publishing Ethics Committee. The Publishing Ethics Committee comprised of Sarah Binder of George Washington University (chair), Ray Duch of the University of Oxford and Laurel Weldon of Simon Fraser University may be contacted by email at PEC@ajps.org.
6. Any other issues not included in the list above should be directed to the attention of the MPSA's Committee on Professional Ethics (COPE). COPE will review any disclosed potential conflicts of interest not explicitly identified in the preceding section to determine if COPE requires an alternate editorial review process, which could include assigning an alternate editor for that manuscript. If there is a single editor, the alternate editor would be a past editor of AJPS. If there are multiple editors of the AJPS and only one has a conflict, one of the other editors may be assigned to the manuscript. The association expects that the alternate editorial process will be used only in limited circumstances.
7. Transparency. Annually, the editor(s) and COPE will provide a report to the executive committee and editorial board that lists the actual and potential conflicts of interests identified through the conflict-of-interest review process.

NOTE: The MPSA Executive Council may consider improvements to the policy as the AJPS Editorial Team creates procedures to implement and evaluate the Editorial Conflict of Interest Policy.
