Graduate Student Travel Scholarships

- Dianne Pinderhughes Diversity PhD Student Travel Scholarship. This was established in 2024 to honor the work of Dr. Dianne Pinderhughes, whose research addresses inequality with a focus on racial, ethnic and gender politics and public policy in the Americas, explores the creation of American civil society institutions in the twentieth century, and analyzes their influence on the formation of voting rights policy. This program provides $500 in travel funding for doctoral-level graduate students who are presenting at the annual conference, with an awarding preference to students with a diverse background.
- Harrell Rodgers Graduate Student Travel Scholarship. This scholarship started with funding from the Policy Studies Organization (PSO) in 2004 and expanded by the MPSA Council in 2010. This program provides $500 in travel funding for doctoral-level graduate students who are members of the MPSA to attend the MPSA Conference. The scholarship is named for Harrell Rodgers, who has organized panels at the MPSA conference on behalf of the PSO for many years.
- John Bohte Memorial Graduate Student Travel Scholarship. This scholarship was established to fund travel for graduate students presenting research in the subfield of public policy/public administration. This program provides $500 in travel funding for graduate students. The scholarship is named in honor of John Bohte, who was an active scholar in the field of public policy/public administration and a popular teacher and mentor to undergraduate and graduate students alike.
- Luis R. Fraga Graduate Student Travel Scholarship. This scholarship seeks to support PhD students from underserved populations to attend the MPSA annual conference.
- MPSA Status Committee on Racial and Ethnic Minorities Travel Scholarship. This scholarship awards travel funding to a select group of qualifying members of the MPSA to attend and present at the MPSA Annual Conference.
- MPSA Status Committee on Gender and Sexual Minorities Travel Scholarship. This scholarship awards travel funding to a select group of qualifying members of the MPSA to attend and present the MPSA Annual Conference.
- Valerie Martinez-Ebers Diversity Travel Scholarship. This was established in 2023 to honor the work of Dr. Valerie Martinez-Ebers, whose research specializes in education policy, Latino/a politics, and women in politics. This program provides $500 in travel funding for doctoral-level graduate students, with an awarding preference to students with a Latino/a or other diverse background.
- Vincent Hutchings Diversity Travel Scholarship. This was established in 2023 to honor the work of Dr. Vincent Hutchings, an internationally known scholar of political behavior with significant contributions to the literature in public opinion, elections, voting behavior, and African American politics. This program provides $500 in travel funding for doctoral-level graduate students who are presenting at the annual conference, with an awarding preference to students with a diverse background.
